Dr. Max Saville, V.S., attended the meeting reference to Bangs Disease work in the District for Blood Tests and Vaccination, and T.B. Tests. He pointed out that to have an area free of these diseases in cattle that a lot of work in organization would be required, that his services as a Veterinary Surgeon was available but with-out a planned area these services would be costly to the farmer and rancher, and as the Service Board Act has been amended to provide services under "The Livestock Diseases Act" he was appealing to the Service Board for their interest and co-operation. After discussion the following Motion was made:

Folkins—that the Weed Inspectors be employed to gather from the residents in their area, data and application forms re: the Vaccination and Blood Tests for Bangs Disease and Test for Tuberculosis, forward same to the Field Supervisor to be compiled and handed to Dr. Saville, V.S.

Blood Tests for Bangs Disease—$1.00 per head. Range herds—50¢ per head.

Blood Tests for T.B.—$1.25 per head, Range herds—50¢ per head. Vaccination of calves for Bangs—75¢ per head.

Vaccination and Blood Tests for Bangs and Blood Tests for T.B.—$1.00 per head.

Vaccine supplied free by the Department of Agriculture, Government of Alberta; asking all interested parties to complete application form and return by Sept. 1, 1949. Amendment Carried.

The Motion as amended put and declared carried.

The Field Supervisor read his report up to and including August 6, 1949. Moved by Dr. Folkins that the report of the Field Supervisor be accepted as read and filed with his records for reference.

Bell—that the Secretary write the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. Department of Natural Resources, asking that their land inspectors control the Noxious Weeds on the Railway farm lands. Cd.

The Weed Inspectors in attendance gave verbal reports as to their activities and results attained.

Smale—that the Weed Inspectors prepare a list of all parcels where a final notice to destroy weeds under the Noxious Weeds Act had been ignored by the occupant and pass same to the Field Supervisor for condemnation, and that a copy of this resolution be given to each Weed Inspector. Cd.

Archibald—that the Secretary write the Field Crops Commission re: the Noxious Weed condition of the Flagstaff and Minburn MD's asking that these Districts control their weed situation.

Archibald—that the Field Supervisor be guided by Section 24 of the Noxious Weeds Act and notify the proper authorities at Irma, Wainwright, Edgerton and Chauvin. Cd.

Correspondence re: NW 21-44-5 read and referred to Council.

No more business before the Board.

Bell—that the meeting adjourn. Cd.

Harvest Wages

The directors of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture met recently in Edmonton. One of the recommendations passed was that harvest wages be the same as last year, namely $6 a day for stocking and $7 a day for threshing, based on a ten-hour day with board and lodging. The meeting also took the stand that the import of harvest labor should be encouraged as, with a late harvest, time will be short.

The Federation also passed a resolution urging the Wheat Board to delay all movement of coarse grains from Alberta until the new crop is determined, thus giving livestock men here a chance to purchase necessary supplies.

A very unfortunate accident occurred at the farm of Wilmer Rae on Friday last when Mr. and Mrs. Rae's youngest son, Russell, aged four, got his leg caught in the engine belt when his father was chopping barley. The little boy was taken first to Viking and then to Edmonton where it was found necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee. We are glad to hear that Russell's condition is reported as fairly good and we trust he will continue to make progress.

New School Building Attracts Attention

Everyone is astonished at the size of the structure being erected for our new school. Those of us who remember playing "Anti-Over" at the little country school house just gaze at this in awe. It would take Joe DiMaggio to throw a ball over the top of the new school.

We could imagine a new pupil being lost for a time or two before finding the room to which he belonged. But it all looks very nice indeed and we Trust the new school will have a fine building for educational purposes.

Glen-Coa Gleanings

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Berge Gulbraa to whom a little daughter was born on August 20 at Hardisty hospital. We know two happy children will return from their holidays to welcome their new sister, namely Edythe and Sigmund, who have spent the past month at Stettler with Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson.

Norma Likness spent this week in Edmonton visiting with friends there.

Mr. Johnny Erickson has arrived from the west coast to help his brother, Ralph, with the harvesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Poek and family who have been here since spring, have left for Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Sharon Ladies' Aid will meet at Mrs. J. Gulbraa's on Wednesday, August 31.

The holiday season has drawn to a close with the departure of various visitors. Now the busy harvest time is here and school is but a few days away. To those who managed to squeeze in a brief holiday somewhere throughout the summer, we say well done. To those who could not do so this year we say better luck next summer.

Pastor Saugen showed a film at Sharon Church on Tuesday evening August 23 on Lutheran World Action. Missionary life in Africa with its many trials was vividly portrayed, also the plight of the Displaced Persons in Europe.

Not long ago Mr. and Mrs. P. Spring had a few days holiday in Edmonton.

Others who have motored to the city for a day recently are Mr. and Mrs. M. Reitan and Misses Selvig and Arlene Steffensen.

We understand that a very strong flow of gas has been located at the well being drilled south of town by Imperial Oil. Let us hope they will find oil in like proportion.

Edmonton To Lakehead Pipeline Expected To Cost $120 Million

REGINA—Imperial Oil, Ltd., will build a pipeline from Edmonton to the head of the lakes in the near future, H. H. Hewitson, chairman of Imperial's board, indicated in an address to the Regina Chamber of Commerce recently.

He said it is a development which the company "is actively pursuing". The part from Edmonton to Regina, 450 miles, now is in the preliminary stage, and has already been announced for likely completion in 1950.

It is understood from Mr. Hewitson's remarks that the extension from Regina to the Lakehead, another 750 miles, will proceed simultaneously to some extent at least.

Netherlands Seek Homes For Farmers

OTTAWA—More human cargo is what The Netherlands want to export to Canada.

"We would like to sell greater amounts of herring, cheese and cocoa products in return for greater quantities of Canadian wheat," H. D. Louw, president of The Netherlands Agricultural Foundation and vice president of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, said in an interview, "but most of all we would like to send more immigrants—especially farm labor."

He said The Netherlands always would have a soft spot for Canada. Canadian soldiers had liberated the country from the Nazis in the Second World War and Canada already had provided homes for 15,000 farmers. This year, 7,000 will come to Canada and in 1950, when shipping will be easier, The Netherlands expects to send 10,000 farmers and their families.

Scented Coal Is Predicted

BLUEFIELD, W. Va.—Coal that smells like violets? Or rye whiskey, even?

That day may be at hand. John Stewart of the Ashland Oil & Refining Company says the day of scented coal is on its way.

He told the annual conference of the Michigan Retail Coal Merchants Association that research is under way on an oil treatment to give coal the scent of violets, pine or tube rose.

The idea is to kill the smell of the oil with which coal is treated to make it dustless. And, he added, it may even become possible to make your winter supply of coal smell like rye whiskey.

Gardening Helps Juvenile Delinquency

CHICAGO—Gardening is a weapon against juvenile delinquency, because it keeps children busy, according to the head of the National Garden Institute.

Rodney H. Brandon, president of the organization, says gardening has become "America's most favorite sport as well as its most popular hobby."

Gardening has proven itself a weapon against juvenile delinquency by keeping children busy in a worthy endeavor," Brandon says. And, he adds, "it enhances the general beauty of the nation."

One-Cent Car Sale Was So Successful Dealer May Hold More

DENVER, Colo.—Elwood Edwards said his one-cent automobile sale was such a big success he planned to hold one a month.

Edwards, who claims to be the biggest used car dealer in Colorado, ended his first one-cent sale recently.

He said he thought the stunt would give the people a good buy and give him a chance to unload some trade-ins.

Here's how the deal worked: a customer was to buy either a new Hudson or a used car ranging from 1940 models back as far as 1920. Then he could buy a second car for a penny.

The second car, Edwards said, ranged from a 1930 model "A." Ford

No Remedy For Lipstick Evidence

VANCOUVER—The well-known man will just have to keep on wearing the evidence—lipstick will never be kissed off.

So says Miss Hazel Jensen, representative of an eastern cosmetic firm who recently conducted a two-day cosmetic training class here.

Which means, goss, the wife will know whether that red smudge on your chin after a "night out with the boys" is ketchup, a frog blossom, or "pink tannin."

and will not wait upon completion of the first portion.

It is also understood that no $100,000 a mile, and presumably the decision has yet been made as to the place of the Lakehead terminal.

The Edmonton-Regina link will cost close to $45,000,000, or about 750-mile addition will add another $75,000,000, outside of terminal facilities.

Mr. Hewitson indicated that he favored spending less money on development drilling and more on reaching out to Alberta.

He said Alberta oil wells now are on restricted production because markets cannot yet be reached that will absorb a larger part of potential output.

Development drilling operations, he stated, are bringing in new wells practically every day, and while these are building up potential production, they are adding nothing to current production.

"It seems in such a situation it would be more sensible to use our available capital to provide further outlets for crude in a logical market than to use the money for premature drilling."

"It is important that we proceed in an effective manner, both with regard to the heavy financial burdens and the equities involved. So that we can establish ourselves in a competitive position to supply eastern markets along the Great Lakes and Canada, in due course, similar United States markets."

"The only way to accomplish this is by construction and use of a pipeline from Regina to the Lakehead. The pipeline would provide a means for the producers generally to participate in available business in the new areas that would then be brought within reach of the market."

He said that attendant on such pipeline movement there could well be further savings to Prairie customers of the greater volume of crude oil marketed.

"We now can look forward to the day when all Canada will be self-sufficient in oil. This is an outlook that private enterprise has made a real possibility."

Oil is essential for continued progress and for national and hemispheric security, he added. "Even today, no one can belittle the importance of the Alberta oil fields in any world crisis or emergency."

"Between 1939 and 1946," said Mr. Hewitson, "Canadian oil in partnership with other interests, sent exploratory parties through most of Southern Saskatchewan. A number of promising structures were found and 15 wells were drilled, or a total of 90,000 feet, but all were dry holes. "This indicates the uncertainty of oil seeking and that it is a job for risk capital."

The Board of Transport Commissioners has yet to give its consent to the line proposals, but a decision on the Edmonton-Regina line is expected shortly.

EASY WAY TO FINANCE COLLEGE EDUCATION

—A father and his son, both from college were hard at work putting in a new fence on the farm. A neighboring farmer passing by with a load of feed, stopped and shouted: "Does it take a university education to dig post holes?"

Glancing admiringly at his son, the father shouted back: "No. But sometimes it takes digging post holes to get a university education."

Right now thousands of university students are knocking down into a Summer of hard labor to enable them to finance their studies next Fall.

ANGLERS LAND TWO "BIG ONES"—Fishing is popular sport these days and this 31-inch, eight-pound, 12-ounce rainbow trout was hooked by Leslie Merriam, Guelph, Ont., (above left), at secret spot somewhere near Orangeville. He fought battle lasting 20 minutes before he landed the big fish. Too much for Mrs. Charlotte Nowak to handle, this 20-pound, three-ounce sturgeon, (above right), caught in the Niagara river at Queenston, Ont., was landed by Stanley Nowak, seen with Mrs. Nowak and Carol Nowak, his grandchild. Over 100 people watched in the rain while the 30-minute battle took place.—S.N.S. photo.

5,000,000 U.S. Young People Never In Church, Sunday School

OTTAWA.—J. Belmont Mosser, president of Kiwanis International, said that 5,000,000 young people in the United States had never seen the inside of a church or Sunday school.

On his official visit to the Ottawa club, the St. Mary's, Pa., manufacturer, said the three sacred institutions, church, home and school, were being endangered by an "apathetic attitude" toward domestic and world problems.

"We are condemning youth today without giving them proper support and without providing proper association and environment."

Police Whistle Fails To Scare Grizzly

CALGARY.—Anyone believing the old theory that a whistle's noise will scare away a grizzly, can take the word of three Californians that it isn't so.

The trio, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rams and Miss C. R. Nickle, were walking on a trail near Glacier, B.C., when they spotted a grizzly in front. The bear heard them, turned and headed for the trio.

That's when the whistle test was made. Mr. Rams, carrying a police-type whistle, blew it. The bear even more curious, increased his pace toward the three. There was a hurried scramble up a nearby tree. "He came under the tree and took a good look and a good smell," Mrs. Rams said. Then he rambled off into the forest.

PREFERRED JAIL TERM UNTIL CHEQUE CAME

BRANTFORD.—Thomas Jones, 43, of London, Ont., who told the court he was broke, was granted his request to stay in jail until his next pension cheque arrives.

Magistrate R. J. Gillen at first freed the neatly dressed man on a vagrancy charge, laid after he was unable to pay for a restaurant meal.

But Jones, a former railway worker with an artificial leg, asked for 30 days to tide him over until he gets his small disability pension cheque.

The magistrate remanded him in custody until two days after the cheque was due.

He said that "adult delinquency" was responsible for many current domestic problems.

"You can't tell kids to go to Sunday school unless you go to church yourself. The trouble is that young people are too smart."

The 200,000 business and professional men who belong to Kiwanis International could play a leading role in finding the answer to municipal and state questions.

Mr. Mosser quoted J. Edgar Hoover of the F.B.I. who once told him: "If the present generation is not what you want it to be, it is because the generation which has just preceded it has failed in its duty."

Kiwanis was built on service to youth and the community and its aims and objects had not changed in 25 years.

He based his speech on Kiwanis themes in Canada and the United States which are, respectively, "It's Great to be a Canadian," and "It's Fun to Live in America."

"It must be great to be a Canadian because we send you 23,000,000 people, almost twice your population, every year for holidays."

The Cat Came Back

A recent story from Portland about the woman who didn't want her cat, dumped him in the woods 35 miles from home and was astounded to find him back on her doorstep three weeks later, is a seasonal reminder for holidaymakers who can't be bothered with their tabbies.

The Portland lady did all the wrong things about her cat, all the things people who are going away for a vacation should be careful not to do.

What do you expect of your mousser when you desert him, or throw him out of your car miles from home?

And probably your cat will neither starve nor find a new home. Cats are tough and resourceful. Your unwanted pet will either try to find his way back to you or go wild. Either way he will live off the country—which means he will spend a lot of time killing song and game birds and raiding baby chick pens—Vancouver Province.

To Feel Right — Eat Right

Canada's Position To "The Crown" Is Still The Same

(By James Roe in Ottawa Citizen)

Canada's position with respect to the sovereignty of The Crown has not altered as a result of the formula developed at the recent conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers to admit India as a "republican" member.

External Affairs department officials here say that the complicated legal identity of The Crown in Canada is still intact, regardless of the ups and downs of public opinion.

This comment was raised over the recent statement of R. G. Menzies, Australian Liberal leader who declared that the India manoeuvre had reduced The Crown from "a pulsing member."

Edmonton Site Is Sought For Army Depot

EDMONTON.—The Canadian army has applied for purchase of 160 acres in Edmonton's Westmount district as the site of a multi-million dollar ordnance plant, city council has been informed.

Council was told that the site was sought by Maj. Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, general officer commanding, western command, on behalf of the Department of National Defence.

Council referred the army scheme to the finance committee and to the town planning commission for consideration.

Said Commissioner John Hodgson: "This huge scheme will make Edmonton one of the greatest, if not the greatest, military centres in Canada."

Gracie Fields Making Spectacular Comeback With London Audiences

LONDON.—Singing for £10 ($40) a minute to audiences of 8,000 nightly, breezy, versatile Gracie Fields has made a spectacular comeback with London audiences.

On her return from Canada Gracie was offered £6,500 to give eight concerts at the mammoth Empress Hall, Earls Court, plus a share of the profits. She accepted—and 64,000 Londoners cheerfully paid from half a crown to half a guinea to see her.

They were not disappointed. It was the same old Gracie, singing every type of song from "Ave Maria" to "My Bleedin' Heart"—dancing, whistling, telling stories, turning cartwheels and doing the high kick with all the old verve.

At 51 her voice has lost none of its range and power and her tone is possibly sweeter than before. Even in the huge hall she was clearly audible without a microphone.

One night there was a stampede from the bar when she suddenly decided to dash back onto the stage when the program said "interval".

Astonished bar attendants found the counters piled high with drinks and sandwiches, abandoned when a woman near the door shouted: "Hi, Gracie's on!"

"It's nice to know London still loves me," Gracie told The Canadian Press in a backstage interview, "The Americans are grand and Canada is my second home, but sooner or later I always have to come back to grimy old London."

really to a heartless lawyer's document."

The fact that Canada's "Crown" viewed from Ottawa is still the same as it was before the question of India was brought up is stressed by the department's constitutional law experts, in spite of the fact that the prospect of the Commonwealth viewed from Westminster may be altered as a result of the reformation.

Canada's relations with the "external" Crown through which the Canadian government acts as a legal personality before the law which Parliament itself creates, is also unchanged.

Diplomats in Ottawa, however, refused to comment on possible reduction of the emotional appeal of The Crown as a bond between Canadians and other Commonwealth subjects since the India decision.

POSTCARD HAS ARRIVED SIXTY-TWO YEARS LATE

ESSEX, Ont.—A postcard mailed in Toronto 62 years ago has finally reached its destination—to Dresden's town clerk's office.

Town Clerk E. J. Kyle rubbed his eyes and looked again when the postcard, bearing a Queen Victoria one-cent stamp and postmarked June 27, 1887, turned up in the local post office.

The postcard was routed via Essex. There was no explanation for the 62-year delay, nor any explanation why it went through Essex post office.

The card was from a Toronto author of municipal handbooks. He offered the town a combination of his works at a bargain price.

Canada Geese Use Golf Balls For Nesting Practice

GERALDTON, Ont.—A flock of Canada geese has literally taken over the Kenogami golf course at this northwestern Ontario town and local golfers aren't happy about it.

Since the geese arrived at their new "home" and started strutting and honking around the course, the toll in lost golf balls has increased, golfers claim.

The honking and strutting is distracting enough. But the chief complaint about the geese is their habit of picking up the round white pellets and using them for nesting practice.

Later she hopes to make another Canadian tour and "look up some of my dear friends in Toronto and Vancouver."

Early in June Gracie will be off to join her husband, Monty Banks, at their picturesque home on the Isle of Capri. I take on the outside, Lancashire on the inside. Her proud parents, 75 and 74-year-old Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stansfield, are going with her.

Seeking a rest, Gracie says she has turned down a movie offer from Hollywood, but intends writing her life story for a British movie, which may be directed by her husband.

Gracie's on! "It's nice to know London still loves me," Gracie told The Canadian Press in a backstage interview, "The Americans are grand and Canada is my second home, but sooner or later I always have to come back to grimy old London."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

YOU NEVER KNOW

By BERTRAND BECK

BIDDY ought to be keeping her own counsel, travelling the road of worry alone. But the little brown-haired woman seemed so much like herself, Biddy felt she was talking to a sister.

"I was happy enough until last week," Biddy said.

"Too bad," said the woman, sympathy in her eyes.

"There they were," Biddy went on, "that batch of letters from that woman in Sea Gate, hidden under his fishing gear."

"Ah," sighed the woman her eyes suddenly bright. "Are you going there now?"

Yes, and after she had seen her she would call Larry and tell him she was on her way to Reno. Seeing the woman would make up Biddy's mind; talking to Larry long distance would be easier than telling him face to face.

"I've got the letters here," Biddy said, patting the bulging pocketbook she had bought for that purpose back in Beaverbrook four days ago. "I'm going to show her that I have them, and then I'm off. My ticket's for tomorrow. Eleven o'clock. Track thirty-two."

The brown-haired woman turned away, stared out of the darkened windows. Biddy felt slighted. She set the wallet firmly in the crook of her elbow, determined not to think of Larry and Beaverbrook.

It was then that she noticed that a woman had come and sat down at her left, a small, dainty woman with delicious perfume. Her blue eyes were on Biddy's face as if she knew Biddy—from a photograph, perhaps. Lawrence carried Biddy's picture with him, Biddy remembered, started into awareness.

Oh, this woman whose skin was transparent, whose lips were so gay—this was the kind of woman Larry had always admired. And this was the train to Sea Gate.

"I have to talk to you," Biddy said, her voice thin. "I have feeling of knowing you."

The blonde smiled, teeth white

Expect Bigger Sugar Beet Crop This Year

All four sugar beet provinces show substantial crop gains this year. In Ontario the tonnage increase is expected to be the greatest—an estimated 310,000 tons as compared with 197,000 in 1948. For the first time since 1941 both Ontario sugar beet factories will operate at Walsburg and Chatham, Alberta expects 389,000 tons of beets—an increase of 65,000 tons. Manitoba estimates 125,000 tons (up 45,000) and Quebec forecasts 70,000 tons (up more than 42,000 tons).

Forecast yields per acre are estimated at about the same as last year in all provinces except Alberta where 12 tons per acre are expected (about 11.2 in 1948). Immigration of experienced European beet growers into the Western Ontario region has improved the picture there this last year.—Financial Post.

YUMMY Honey Pecan Buns

Recipe

Measure into bowl, 1/4 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 min., then stir well. Scald 1/2 c. milk and stir in 1/4 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 3/4 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture and stir in 1 well-beaten egg. Stir in 1 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 1/2 c. once-sifted bread flour. Knead until smooth and elastic; place in greased bowl and brush top with melted butter or shortening. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. While dough is rising, combine 1/2 c. brown sugar (lightly pressed down), 1/2 c. liquid honey, 3/4 c. butter or margarine, melted; divide evenly into 24 greased large muffin pans, drop 3 pecan halves into each pan. Punch down dough and divide into 24 equal portions; form into smooth balls. Roll each piece into an oblong 7 1/2" thick and 12" long; loosen dough. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with a mixture of 1/2 c. brown sugar, 1/2 c. liquid honey, 3/4 c. chopped pecans. Beginning at 12" edge, roll up each piece loosely, like a jelly roll. Cut into 12" slices. Place, a cut-side up, in prepared muffin pans. Bake in 350° oven for 20 minutes. Turn out of pans immediately and serve hot, or reheated.

I get grand results from this New Fast-Acting Dry Yeast

Needs NO Refrigeration!

She Thought She Knew The One But Was Mistaken.

There was no use denying the truth.

This woman, lovely and delicate and seductive, this woman had recognized her. This woman had been making Larry happy. Biddy wanted to scream, Biddy bit her lips.

The blonde was thinking aloud. "It doesn't hurt their marriages, most of the time," she said.

"How do you know?" said Biddy. "I get it," the girl flicked her eyelashes. "You think I'm your woman."

She shrugged. "It couldn't occur to you that maybe I'm in the same boat—with my husband going west regularly and forgetting to tear up the letters. Her eyes narrowed. "Maybe it was you he was seeing out there in Iowa. How can I be sure? You're the kind that would make him roasts and apple pies and let him go to sleep after dinner in a big chair near the fire while you knit him socks. I hate sitting around the house! And now I'm free—"

"How does it feel?" said Biddy, apologetic.

The blonde's eyes filled. "Awful," she whispered. "I never realized—"

"It's only because it's so fresh."

"I'm not so sure. If I could do it over again—I wouldn't! Take my advice, go back to Iowa, or Missouri, or wherever you live!"

"Thank you," Biddy said. "I don't want advice. I want my divorce."

The blonde stood up. "Well, good luck."

"Is this a station?"

"It's the last stop. If you're going to Sea Gate you take the trolley."

"Are there telephones here?"

"In every drug store."

"I ought to be calling Larry in half an hour," Biddy said as the train came to a stop. The blonde disappeared. Biddy felt a hand on her arm, that of the brown-haired woman.

"Wait," the woman said, her voice clear. "Go home with your letters and pretend you never knew. Put them back under his gear and make sure they're in the right envelopes. He's very finicky!"

"You?" gasped Biddy.

"It's all over. I won't be here when he comes again. I'm going back home to South Dakota. I've got my old job again. Please don't tell him you know!"

She turned abruptly and ran down the ramp.

"You!" Biddy cried over and over.

When the next city train left, Biddy was on it. She held the letters more carefully than ever, worried now at getting them back home. She would try back home.

World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Saunders and Redman Wheats

Two new varieties of wheat have had good field tests on a fairly large scale by farmers this year. Redman which was licensed on the basis that it would have some advantages over Thatcher and all other rust-resistant varieties, and Saunders which is also rust-resistant and a quite early wheat and which was bred and introduced to take the place, mainly in Alberta, of Red Bobs and Garnet.

I have looked over a number of fields of both of these varieties. Farmers who have grown these sorts appear to be most satisfied with them. The varieties seem to be living up to their reputation. Saunders is as early as it was thought it would be; Redman is yielding well and has a fine stiff straw. The final test will be after threshing is done; then it will be possible for farmers to compare yields and grades of these varieties with older sorts grown in the same district. Farmers, I suggest, should make a particular effort to enquire about fields of Redman and Saunders that are being grown in their vicinity, and then to form their own conclusions.

This next year there will be much purer lots of seed available of these two varieties than farmers were able to purchase this past year.

KEEP EYES ON HIGHWAY TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

Safe driving demands undivided attention to that task, it is pointed out by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Unless more attention is given to the principles of safety, there is danger of the accident rate continuing to rise instead of showing a much desired decline.

With highway hard-surfacing being extended, there will be a greater tendency on the part of some motorists to speed. Coupled with this condition is the fact that there is a greater volume of traffic now than possibly ever before. All this adds up to the need to "Take It Easy."

A motorist in Wisconsin has installed a television set on the floor of his car by the driver's seat. Some are asking—what next? Will there be ping pong tables, gin rummy set-ups, dart boards and such like?

The automobile was built originally as a vehicle for convenient transportation. Now it is being considered in some quarters as an amusement centre.

Too high a percentage of the accident rate is caused when motorists let their attention wander for a moment from the road ahead. If something happens ahead, the split second reaction to prevent an accident is lost.

Keep your eye on the road ahead and avoid accidents.

YOUNG KINGMAN FARMER

Self-taught violinist, 12-year-old Alfred Myhre who resides on a farm near Kingman, Alberta, will head east shortly to take part in the "Old Time Fiddlers' Contest" at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

The contest will be held early in September and the young fiddler has been entered in the contest by radio station CFRN in Edmonton with the full co-operation of the Edmonton Club of the Associated Canadian Travellers.

CFRN snapped Alfred from one of the CFRN ACT "Search for Talent" shows during its 1948-49 tour of Northern Alberta in aid of the Crippled Children's Fund.

Youngest of a family of seven, he first became interested in the violin after hearing a violinist perform at a community concert. His father sensing his interest in music, purchased a violin and as there were no teachers nearby Alfred had to teach himself. At six years of age, it was no easy task but daily practice was all that was needed and Alfred soon had the situation mastered.

His first big chance when his sister entered him in one of the "Search for Talent" shows. He didn't win first prize but he was one of the final prize winners.

Just how he'll fare in his first real big test is not known but as Alfred puts it "I might be a bit nervous, but I'll do my best."

While in Toronto, Alfred Myhre will be the guest of the noted Women's Commentator, Kate Aitken.

Iowa Farmer Finds Get-rich-quick Plan

An Iowa citizen wrote to the Clinton Herald to show how every farmer can get rich under the new agricultural plan of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. The idea of Mr. Brannan is that food commodities are to be sold in a free market at whatever price they will bring, and that the government will make up the difference to the producer between the market price and a predetermined "fair" return.

The Iowan says: "Now suppose that under the plan, a farmer comes into Clinton with 100 dozen eggs for which he receives 10c a dozen from a Clinton market, or $10 for the 100 dozen. A short time later he goes back and buys all these eggs back for 15 cents a dozen, or $15, retail. He has lost $5 on the deal.

"Along comes now Uncle Sam," says this Herald correspondent, "and he gives the farmer $25 to make up the difference between the $10 the farmer sold the eggs for on the market and the $35 he would be entitled to under the price support guarantee. Subtract the $5 lost on the two-way deal from the $25 given to him by the government, and we find the farmer has gained $20 cash and still has the eggs."

The Iowan has it figured out that this process can be repeated until the egg-producer has gained a million or two from the subsidy money. He asks that some explanation be made of why this won't work.

Cooking Vegetables

Because of the prolonged drought in the spring and early summer, gardens are not generally good and many will have fewer vegetables this year than had hoped. Miss B.J. Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, advises that we get the most from what we have left of these precious foods by following the four simple rules listed below.

1. USE LITTLE OR NO WATER—Just enough to cook the vegetables without having them stick to the kettle. When cooking greens the amount that clings to the leaves after washing is sufficient. By using a small amount of water the loss of minerals and vitamins is kept to a minimum.

2. START FAST—COOK QUICKLY—The total cooking time is greatly reduced by bringing foods to a cooking temperature quickly. This protects the vitamins by keeping them exposed to water, heat and air for as short a time as possible.

3. AVOID VIOLENT BOILING—After the food comes to a steam, reduce the heat to the lowest temperature required to keep it steaming. To decrease the loss of food value and to keep vegetables whole, violent boiling should be avoided.

4. COOK IN COVERED UTENSILS—Keep out the air as air destroys certain vitamins. Avoid stirring for the same reason, because stirring puts air in food. Green vegetables cooked in covered utensils keep their natural color and flavor if they are not overcooked.

ANNUAL MOVEMENT OF HARVESTERS TO THE WEST
The annual Dominion-Provincial movement of harvesters to the Prairie Provinces is due to commence around August 10th, according to an announcement today, by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

The exact number required for the movement is not yet known, but the demand is not as heavy as last year when 2,200 made the trip and it is expected there will be sufficient experienced volunteers to meet the requirements, the Minister explained.

The harvest is somewhat earlier than last year, especially in parts of Manitoba, so the workers will in many cases start work in Manitoba and work West through Saskatchewan and Alberta. The peak of the movement will be reached around August 25th, Mr. Mitchell stated.

Transportation is being provided for the workers at a low rate of $15.00 going and $11.50 the return journey.

Earlier this summer, as in past years, workers were brought from the West to Ontario for early hay harvesting operations. The demand, which was less than last year, was fully met by workers from the West and a few from the Maritimes, the Minister stated.

HOW TO HAMMER

It is little consolation after hitting your thumb violently with a hammer, to hear the oldwiscrack, "Why don't you hold the hammer with both hands?" And in any case it's not the way the hammer is held, so much as the way the nail is held.

There are two ways to hammer a nail. One often leads to a smashed thumb; the other to the insertion of the nail without trouble. The correct way is to hold the nail with the thumb and forefinger near the head of the nail. If the nail slips, the hammer head tends to brush thumb and forefinger to one side with damage.

The wrong way is to support the nail at the base. This results in injury because the thumb and forefinger are more or less stationary against the surface being nailed. If the nail slips, the hammer descends and smashes thumb and forefinger against a solid surface.

The "flints" used in cigarette lighters are not real flint but an alloy of cerium and neopron produced by an electro-metallurgical process.

If cheese is too soft to grate, soften it a little more in a warm place and press through a coarse strainer.

PREDATORS OUTLAWS AT LARGE

THE MAGPIE MENACE

Kerry Wood, naturalist of Red Deer, describes the Magpie as the most clever and one of the most beautiful members of the Corvidae bird family. But every farmer and sportsman is well aware of the tremendous toll these handsome bandits take in wild life, domestic fowl and livestock in Alberta.

The magpie kills new-born calves, lambs and fawn by pecking out the eyes of these helpless animals. It eats and destroys countless thousands of game and song-bird eggs; they invade poultry yards to kill off young chicks and turkey pouls and even dine on hen's eggs. Another grisly habit of the magpie is to attack open sores on livestock, often enlarging the wound to such an extent to cause death.

It is understandable that with these outlaws on the increase in Alberta, it is up to the farmer and towns people alike to destroy the magpie and crow whenever possible, by shooting, trapping or controlled poison measures.

Do You Eat A Good Breakfast?

Too many people slight this important meal. They may think that a cup of coffee is all they need. Some even say they feel better if they don't eat breakfast. Skipping breakfast, or dining on a hastily consumed bun and coffee, results in cutting down the food materials essential for body health, says the Nutrition Specialist for the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Starting the day with a good breakfast will not only make you keener and peppier at mid-morning but may bring the greatest benefits later in life.

The meal after sleep should contribute its share of your daily food requirements. To be sure of this your breakfast menu should include fruit or fruit juice, whole grain cereal (cooked or prepared) with milk, and whole grain or Canada Approved bread (or rolls, muffins, biscuits, etc., made with whole grain of Canada Approved flour). If you are very active you will need to include eggs, bacon or other hearty dish. Your daily menus should include at least three eggs per week for each person. These may be on the breakfast menu or for one of the other meals.

Good food habits do much to help assure a long and healthy life. Start your day with a good breakfast.

Bank of Montreal Crop Report

ALBERTA—Ideal weather has aided ripening of early-sown wheat. Moisture received in the Peace River and north-central areas will help in filling grain crops, but rain is needed in south-central districts. Light yields are in prospect in the eastern and north-eastern sections. Harvesting in the south-east is well advanced.

SASKATCHEWAN—Cutting of coarse grains is proceeding, but harvesting generally is one week away. The outlook remains very promising in the northern and eastern districts and parts of the central area. In the remainder of the Province, prospects are poor to fair, with many returns likely to bring only seed or feed.

MANITOBA—Cutting is well advanced and harvesting will be in full swing within a week. A good wheat crop is in prospect, with early yields satisfactory and grading high. While some late-sown coarse grains are fair, outturns generally should be good. Following recent rains, commercial row crops promise well.

ALBERTA SHEEP AND SWINE IMPROVEMENT POLICY

The Alberta Live Stock Branch continues to operate the Sheep and Swine Improvement Policy. Farmers who are eligible may obtain high quality purebred boars and purebred rams at cost price, and have express shipping charges prepaid to their nearest railway shipping point.

In view of spotty crops in areas where purebred breeders predominate, very few boars and rams may be saved unless there is some assurance of a good market for them this fall. It is advisable, therefore, that those farmers who will require purebred boars or rams should place their orders as early as they possibly can. Unless purebred swine breeders are assured early in the season of a market for their purebred boars this fall, there is very likely to be a serious shortage of high quality boars at a time when they are actually needed by the commercial breeders.

In view of this situation, commercial breeders are urged to place their orders as early as possible through the offices of their local District Agriculturist who are in possession of all the necessary information on this subject. Those, who for a very good reason, cannot avail themselves of the services of a District Agriculturist, may write direct to Live Stock Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alberta.

DEEP LITTER IN POULTRY HOUSES

Deep litter, a relatively new idea in laying house management, has been used by many Alberta poultrymen with considerable success, say officials of the Poultry Branch.

Poultrymen have found that deep litter keeps dry. The reason for this is that numerous organisms grow in deep litter utilizing chemicals and the moisture contained in the poultry droppings. Conditions favorable for the growth of these organisms occur in the presence of food, moisture, air and warmth. All these are provided during the summer months, so that summer is the time to start building up your deep litter.

The general procedure is to clean the laying house thoroughly and disinfect it before the birds are moved in off the range. It is preferable that a few weeks elapse between removing the old birds and the housing of the new. To begin with a thin layer of straw, shavings or sawdust (fir is preferable to spruce) is put on the floor. When this layer is well mixed with droppings, another thin layer should be added. This is continued until the litter is six or eight inches deep. As the cold weather approaches, a little lime can be added at intervals to help keep it dry. One pound of hydrated lime per fifteen square feet of floor space is usually sufficient. During the winter any really wet litter around drinking fountains should be removed at intervals and some more straw or shavings added. It is important that the litter be stirred whenever it shows a tendency to pack. The most satisfactory way of doing this is to move the litter at the front of the house to the back and that at the back to the front.

If properly managed, litter six to eight inches deep can be kept odorless, dry, warm and sanitary, for one season.

CLOSING DATE FOR ENTRIES IN AMTA ROAD RACE EXTENDED TO SEPTEMBER 1st

The closing date for entries in the Alberta Motor Transport Association Road race has been extended until September 1.

In the meantime practise tracks have been erected at the Lethbridge and Calgary airports and at the Namaso airport, near Edmonton. Many truckers are taking advantage of the opportunity to work out over these courses.

The provincial truck road race championships will be held at the Edmonton municipal airport, September 10. The provincial winner will compete in the dominion championships which will be held in Toronto in October.

Indications Of Prosperity

ALTHOUGH CANADA HAS BEEN experiencing a period of almost unprecedented prosperity and expansion since the war, there is always some speculation regarding the possibilities of a business recession or of a depression such as occurred in the nineteen thirties. A recent recession in the United States caused some apprehension as to whether there would be a similar trend in this country. However, some figures regarding financial conditions here, and given at a meeting of the Investment Dealers of Canada, held at Minaki, Ontario, early in the summer, showed that there are still indications of continuing prosperity.

Increase In Bank Accounts

Among the figures presented were those showing the amount of bank savings in Canada at this time. There are 6,600,000 accounts in the various banks, with a total of $4,048,000,000, deposited in them. These were compared with the figures for 1943, when there were 4,000,000 accounts, totalling $1,370,000,000. Another interesting fact brought out in the discussions, was that there are now 387,000 more accounts with balances exceeding one thousand dollars than there were fifteen years ago. It was also shown that employment rates are remaining at high levels except for seasonal drops which are to be expected in certain types of work.

Small Number Out Of Work

At the time these figures were compiled there were 4,700,000 employed in Canada, which was 30,000 more than at the same period in 1948. Only 110,000, which is less than three per cent, of the total working population were unemployed. This is looking upon a period of full employment and employment at many times in the past would have been regarded as highly satisfactory. While there are a great many factors which govern the prosperity of a country, bank balances, which represent purchasing power, and employment, which is of fundamental importance, both appear to be at high levels in Canada at this time. Economists and financial experts do not all agree as to what may happen in the future, but these facts are encouraging to those who believe that we are to enjoy continuing prosperity.

Unemployment Claims Show A Decline

OTTAWA.—Claims for unemployment insurance benefits declined in June. The bureau of statistics said they were down to 53,100 from the 63,700 claims filed in May, but up from the 39,600 filed in June last year.

By the end of June there were 80,400 ordinary claims on the live unemployment register, compared with 95,800 at the end of May and 56,500 at the end of June, 1948.

Compared with 750,700 persons who were paid $5,511,000 in May, only 711,800 persons received one or more unemployment insurance benefits during June, getting $4,113,300. Payments were for 1,856,800 days of compensated unemployment in June, compared with 2,474,100 days in May.

In June last year 78,800 persons were compensated for 1,350,700 days. This amounted to $2,599,700.

Average duration of unemployment showed a slight increase in June estimated at 16.6 days compared with 16.4 days in May, but down sharply from the 17.8 days in June last year.

Benefits paid were slightly higher averaging $36.79 for each unemployed person in June, compared with $36.36 in May and $34.15 in June a year ago.

Average amount of benefit paid for each compensated day of unemployment amounted to $2.22 in June, $2.23 in May and $1.92 in June last year.

BELIEVES CANADIANS FRIENDLIEST PEOPLE

MONTREAL.—Canada is a better place to live than the United States, W. J. J. Harrow Irish author and playwright, said in an interview. The 37-year-old Princeton, N.J., graduate was returning to England aboard the liner Empress of France after a six-month tour of Canada. Canadians are more relaxed, a more friendly people, he said. They are interested in one another and lead very personal lives.

BUENOS AIRES HAVING WINTER WEATHER NOW

BUENOS AIRES.—Weather note: Buenos Aires had its coldest day of the year August 10 with a temperature of 26.24 degrees Fahrenheit. Ice, uncommon in the winter season here, glazed the streets.

It snowed for the first time in 15 years at Mar del Plata, fashionable resort 200 miles south of Buenos Aires.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

An adolescent boy, going on a school picnic, asked his father for a dollar for spending money. The father sighed as he handed over the money.

"Make it go as far as you can," he said.

"I'll make it go so far you'll never see any of it again," was the reply.

Prisoner—"The judge sent me here for the rest of my life."

Prison Guard—"Got any complaints?"

Prisoner—"Do you call breaking rock with a hammer a rest?"

"How do you like your hair cut?" asked the barber. And the tired customer replied, "OH."

"Who decides where you'll spend your holidays—you or your wife?"

"I do, of course—then my wife thinks of somewhere better."

"Your wife drives like lightning, doesn't she?"

"Yes—always striking trees."

The Judge had just awarded a divorce to a wife. "And" he said to the husband, "I have decided to give your wife $50.00 a month."

"That's fine, Judge," the man said, "and once in a while I'll try to slip her a couple of bucks myself."

"Harold is awfully obstinate."

"In what way?"

"It's the hardest thing in the world to make him admit I'm right when he knows I'm wrong."

A young couple asked the parson to marry them immediately after the Sunday morning service. When the time came the minister rose to say: "Will those who wish to be united in holy bonds of matrimony please come forward?"

There was a great stir as 13 women and one man approached the altar.

A dashing young romantic swore by all lover's vows that his Clarice was the fairest maid of all the world, and he would have none other.

"Be mine, Clarice," he pleaded. "If you refuse me, I shall die."

But she refused him, and 50 years later he did die.

Mary had a little lamb Who had a lot of dough. He followed her around awhile. She sneezed him while as snow.

Sunday School Teacher—"Who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

Johnnie—"He made 60 home runs one season."

Trans-Canada Road Proposals Being Drafted

OTTAWA.—Federal government proposals on the construction of a trans-Canada highway will be sent to all provincial governments in the near future, a reconstruction department official said.

A document containing the proposals now is being drafted and will be sent to the provinces as soon as Reconstruction Minister Winters has it approved by the cabinet.

Legislation providing for federal contribution to the cost of the highway will not be submitted to parliament until all the provinces have indicated that they are fairly well in agreement on the question of sharing costs, the route of the highway and the standards of construction to be used.

The official said plans call for some of many existing roads. As some provinces have not indicated what route they want to have the highway go through, no estimate has been made on the length of existing roads that will be used.

It has been estimated roughly that the whole highway will run 5,000 miles. Total cost of completing the highway, taking into account the use of certain existing links, has been estimated at $400,000,000. The official said 5,000 miles of completely new hard-surfaced highway could not be built for $400,000,000.

Mr. Winters said in an interview that the federal contribution likely will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Honey Crop Small This Year

WINNIPEG.—The Canadian bee isn't buzzing around as much this year as last, so the honey crop will be smaller.

However, the large surplus left over from last year will assure the consumer of an almost-normal honey supply.

Frank R. Garland, president of the Canadian Bee-Keepers' Council, said in an interview that bad weather conditions in Ontario—chief honey-producing province—and drastic curtailment in western Canada indicate a crop of only 50 to 60 per cent. of normal.

This is a surprising difference from last year when the beekeepers had to ask the Dominion government to take away some of the sting of an over-large crop and help them meet their expenses. The government agreed to buy 5,000,000 pounds of honey, provided it was packed in large containers.

They took only about 3,500,000 pounds, however, because much of the honey already was packed in small containers.

Production of honey in Canada last year totalled 45,000,000 pounds, including 15,000,000 from Ontario.

Edmonton Team To Play For Hockey Title

TORONTO.—Edmonton Mercury will represent Canada in the world hockey championships in London next March. This was announced by the Canadian Amateur Hockey association following a two-day meeting. Mercury's are western intermediate champions.

An outright gift of $5,000 to the association to help defray expenses of sending a 62-athlete team to New Zealand Games next February also was announced.

"We realize that some athletes and the organizations to which they belong haven't the facilities to raise money and we are glad to be able to help them out," President Al Pickard of Regina declared.

Pickard said the meeting also recommended that Memorial cup finals, to be played in the east, will start no later than April 22 and the Allan cup finals, to be played in the west, will start no later than April 29.

"We have stipulated that the Edmonton club must satisfy the association it is of calibre to represent Canada adequately," Pickard said. Plans are that the team will leave Canada at the end of December for a three-month tour of Europe and Britain and return home late in March or early April.

Exhibition Officials Turned Detectives

Agricultural manager Sam Foster and his staff at the Canadian National Exhibition turned detectives to track down the rightful owners of some $125 in entry fees money.

Six exhibitors had carefully filed their entries for this year's livestock exhibition at the C.N.E. They recorded the breed names of each animal and enclosed their entry fee remittances. But they neglected to write in their names or addresses.

With only the breed names to go on, Mr. Foster and staff contacted Breed associations, cross-checked last year's entrants, contacted farmers whom they knew breed certain family-line stock.

They had traced all six exhibitors, applied entry money where it belonged.

Residents Forced To Lick Stamps

DAWSON CREEK, B.C.—Residents using the Dawson Creek post office licked stamps with their tongues recently while the waterless office was wedged between a dominion municipal dispute.

The village commissioners shut off the water to the post office. They said the federal government refused to pay frontage rates.

The government, in turn, claimed it is exempt from the rate. While both stood pat, residents wandered around with distasteful looks on their faces.

Price Set For All The Butter Now In Storage

OTTAWA.—The agricultural prices support board announced the butter it has purchased at the current floor price will be sold to the trade at not less than cost plus storage charges.

The announcement recalled the bureau of statistics reported recently that butter storage stocks in Canada amounted to 56,600,000 pounds on Aug. 1. The dairy products board held 41,000,000 pounds of the total.

"The only abnormal feature of the present butter stocks in Canada is that they are largely held by the government instead of by the dairy industry and the trade," said the announcement.

The government began obtaining stocks when the heavy spring and summer production of butter sent prices below the floor fixed by the government. The floor was 58 cents in Montreal and Toronto, 59 cents in Charlottetown, Halifax and St. John, N.B., and 57½ cents in Vancouver.

BOARD STANDS PAT ON DISMISSAL OF PRINCIPAL—The three members of the high school board in the village of Flinton, 40 miles north of Nanaimo, Ont., are standing pat in the unexplained dismissal of the high school principal, Keith MacEwan, 40. Their action has resulted in a storm of protest from some 40 pupils and their parents. Chairman of the high school board, Stafford Yanch, Flinton hotelman, states the board was justified in asking for the principal's resignation. But further than that he will not go. He would give no reason for the dismissal.
